We have the resources to carry out all kinds of transport assignments.

Each transport is unique and requires a unique commitment

A special transport requires careful preparation, a professional structure and a close dialogue with the customer, authorities and cooperative partners. Westdijk Sweden has knowledge, experience, and the wide network of contacts required to carry out special transports in the right way.

One of our foremost strengths is that we constantly monitor the highway network in Sweden and throughout all of Europe. We know how to get from point A to point B in the best way possible and take into consideration accessibility and cost-efficiency. Our transport management is the heart of the business and has complete knowledge about where our vehicles are located and work constantly to give feedback to our customers.

What if you can avoid all the hassle and increase your profit? Contact us for help with your finances!
