A word from our CEO

Briefly introduce yourself and your role at Solvik Fastigheter Service AB

My name is Oliver Petrovic and I am the owner and CEO of Solvik Fastigheter Service AB. I started this company in 2018 when I realised that there was a great demand for subcontractors to larger construction companies – in order to be able to offer a concept with more opportunities on several parameters.

What kind of value do you create for your customers?

We create added value for our customers by providing labour and, if necessary, ordering materials. We can also offer calculation and fixed prices.

Why are you the best at what you do?

We always work with a great solution-oriented commitment to our customers. We want to be able to offer several services so that the end customer can reduce the number of service providers.

How do you see Solvik Fastigheter Service AB's future?

I see a bright future for our company with expansion in both labour and services. We always want to learn new ways to help achieve a safe and healthy solution that empowers the end customer.
